Subject: Introduction to Fluor Marine Propulsion (FMP) Deployment of Oracle Fusion Cloud;
For Information

As a trusted supplier for FMP, we are excited to share that we are modernizing our business processes by migrating to the Oracle Fusion Cloud (OFC), which will offer new features and benefits that will improve our ability to interact with you. FMP is targeting to complete the implementation of OFC in March 2025.

As an FMP supplier, the Oracle Supplier Portal will be your one-stop-shop to access real-time information and will provide the ability to transact with FMP through a secure, self-service cloud platform. Not only will the Supplier Portal play a key role in FMP's transition to OFC, but this application will enhance your interaction with FMP by automating and streamlining the way we do business with each other.

Key features and benefits for portal-enabled suppliers include self-service management in the following areas:

- Profile details including viewing and updating profile information (e.g., contact details, addresses, etc.)
- Receiving requests for proposals and submitting responses
- Purchase order review and acknowledgement
- Submitting invoices and viewing invoice status
- Automated notifications and reminders

Additional details on what's changing for suppliers will be shared on an ongoing basis as we prepare for the rollout of the Supplier Portal.

- Instructions on how to request a Supplier Portal user account, along with training materials, will be made available closer to deployment.
- Please note that these changes will only impact purchase orders from FMP. For purchase orders that FMP administers on behalf of the Government, the contract processes will currently remain unchanged.

To keep our collective business data secure and to comply with recent Federal security requirements outlined in Executive Order 14028, FMP is implementing multi-factor authentication (MFA) as part of our login requirements. We will be providing you with a couple of MFA options to choose from, ensuring that you can select the approach that best meets your needs. Additional details on MFA and the available options will be forthcoming.

If you are receiving this communication but are not the correct point of contact for system access, please provide a name and email address for one to two contacts for initial system access setup to both FMPSupplierSupport@unnpp.gov and your FMP Contracts Professional. Additional contacts may also be setup in the future.

Thank you in advance for your participation in this effort. We look forward to doing business with you in the Cloud and please don't hesitate to reach out to FMPSupplierSupport@unnpp.gov with any questions.

FMP considers the contents of this document fully within the scope of the existing contracts between FMP and the Supplier, and therefore, it does not authorize any increase in price, delay in delivery, or change in any contract provisions.
